

NASHVILLE-STYLE SPIKED ICE TEA LEMON

It's the middle of summer in Tennessee.

The air is heavy and hot, so Auntie Alba-Jean brings out a big jug of freshly made ice tea with lemon wedges. She pours you a tall glass, and you take a huge gulp. It's cold, semi-sweet and bursting with thirst-quenching refreshment. We don't have Auntie Alba-Jean to serve you the authentic pour with her Southern charm, but we made this beauty as close as possible to her recipe, then spiked it up to a reasonable 4,7%. Here is our Nashville-style Lemon Ice Tea to beat the heat on a sunny day, and make rainy days more bearable.
