

SHUFFLEBOARD

Shuffleboard is a collaboration between LERVIG and UK-based YouTube brewers Bin Day Brewing Co. It's a cross between a Mexican lager (brewed with maize) and a Japanese lager (brewed with rice), and is one of the crispiest, most drinkable beers we've ever made. We also gave it a light dry hop of New Zealand varieties Motueka & Hort9909 (an experimental hop) which lends very subtle tropical and stone fruit characteristics to lagers. It's brilliant yellow with a fluffy, white head that lingers long after it's poured into your glass. The bitterness is balanced without any sharp edges, while body is smooth and the finish is clean – inviting sip-after-sip.
